No. 3:23-cv-5364
COMPLAINT

1 Lawrence Hartford, Doug Mitchell, Brett Bass, Sporting Systems Vancouver Inc., Second
2 Amendment Foundation, and Firearms Policy Coalition, Inc., by and through the undersigned
3 attorneys, file this Complaint against the above-captioned Defendants, in their official capacities
4 as the officials responsible under Washington law for administering and enforcing the State’s laws
5 and regulations governing the manufacturing, importation, distribution, sale, and offering for sale
6 of commonly possessed semiautomatic rifles tendentiously and inaccurately labeled “assault
7 weapons.” Plaintiffs seek declaratory and injunctive relief: a declaration that Washington’s ban on 8 manufacturing, importing, distributing, selling, or offering for sale commonly possessed
9 semiautomatic rifles violates the Second and Fourteenth Amendments and an injunction
10 compelling Defendants to refrain from enforcing the invalid ban. In support of their Complaint
11 against Defendants, Plaintiffs hereby allege as follows:

12 I. INTRODUCTION

13 1. The Second Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees “the right
14 of the people to keep and bear Arms.” U.S. CONST. amend. II. This Amendment guarantees a 15 fundamental right to keep and bear common firearms for defense of self and family and for other 16 lawful pursuits.

17 2. But the State has enacted, and Defendants have authority to enforce, a flat 18 prohibition on the manufacture, import, distribution, sale, and offering for sale of many common
19 firearms—tendentiously labeled “assault weapons”—by ordinary citizens (“the Washington 20 Ban”), making it a crime for law-abiding citizens to exercise their fundamental right to keep and 21 bear such arms. See SHB 1240 § 3.

22 3. In so doing, the State of Washington has criminalized one of the most common and 23 important means by which its citizens can exercise their fundamental right to self-defense. By 24 banning manufacturing, importation, distribution, and sale of common semiautomatic rifles, the 25 State has barred law-abiding residents from legally acquiring common rifles and has deprived them
26 of an effective means of self-defense and their fundamental individual right to keep and bear arms.
27

1 4. The plain text of the Second Amendment covers the conduct in which the Plaintiffs
2 wish to engage because it “extends, prima facie, to all instruments that constitute bearable arms,
3 even those that were not in existence at the time of the founding.” New York State Rifle & Pistol
4 Ass’n, Inc. v. Bruen, 142 S. Ct. 2111, 2132 (2022) (quoting District of Columbia v. Heller, 554 U.S.
5 570, 582 (2008)). By prohibiting Plaintiffs from possessing and carrying popular semiautomatic
6 firearms, Washington has prevented them from “keeping and bearing Arms” within the meaning
7 of the Amendment’s text. As a result, “[t]o justify its regulation, the government . . . must 8 demonstrate that the regulation is consistent with this Nation’s tradition of firearm regulation.”
9 Bruen, 142 S. Ct. at 2126.

10 5. Here, Defendants will be unable to meet their burden. Heller and Bruen have already
11 established the only historical tradition that can remove a firearm from the Second Amendment’s 12 protective scope—the tradition of banning dangerous and unusual weapons. Heller, 554 U.S. at 13 627; Bruen, 142 S. Ct. at 2143. But to be banned, a firearm must be both dangerous and unusual.
14 Caetano v. Massachusetts, 577 U.S. 411, 417 (2016) (Alito, J., concurring). Arms that are in common 15 use—as the firearms Washington has banned unquestionably are—are neither unusual nor 16 dangerous. Therefore, they cannot be banned, and the Washington laws challenged herein must be 17 declared unconstitutional.

18 6. Plaintiffs Doug Mitchell, Brett Bass, Lawrence Hartford, Sporting Systems
19 Vancouver, Inc., Second Amendment Foundation, and Firearms Policy Coalition, Inc., bring this 20 action to vindicate the rights that Defendants infringe.
21

22 II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE.

23 7. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over Plaintiffs’ claim under 28 U.S.C.
24 §§ 1331 and 1343.

25 8. Plaintiffs seek remedies under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1651, 2201, and 2202 and 42 U.S.C. §§
26 1983 and 1988, as well as Ex parte Young, 209 U.S. 123 (1908).

27 9. Venue lies in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1) & (b)(2).

III. PARTIES.

2 10. Plaintiff Doug Mitchell is a natural person and a citizen of Kittitas County,
3 Washington. He owns firearms that qualify as “assault weapons” under the Washington Ban. He
4 intends to continue purchasing semiautomatic rifles which qualify as “assault weapons.”
5 However, because of the Washington Ban, he has been forced to abandon these plans to avoid
6 facing prosecution for violating the law. Mitchell is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

7 11. Plaintiff Lawrence Hartford is a natural person and a citizen of Kitsap County,
8 Washington. He owns firearms that qualify as “assault weapons” under the Washington Ban. He
9 intends to continue purchasing semiautomatic rifles which qualify as “assault weapons.”
10 However, because of the Washington Ban, he has been forced to abandon these plans to avoid 11 facing prosecution for violating the law. Hartford is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

12 12. Plaintiff Brett Bass is a natural person and a citizen of Snohomish County,
13 Washington. He owns firearms that qualify as “assault weapons” under the Washington Ban. He
14 intends to continue purchasing semiautomatic rifles which qualify as “assault weapons.”
15 However, because of the Washington Ban, he has been forced to abandon these plans to avoid 16 facing prosecution for violating the law. Bass is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

17 13. Plaintiff Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. is a federally licensed firearm dealer 18 located in Clark County, Washington. Sporting Systems specializes in high end rifles, pistols, and 19 shotguns as well as parts, optics, and accessories. Because of the Washington Ban, Sporting 20 Systems has been forced to stop selling those rifles to civilians and to limit its sale of these items to 21 government purchasers exempted from the state-wide ban. That has substantially constricted
22 Sporting Systems’ market and harm its business.

23 14. Plaintiff Second Amendment Foundation (“SAF”) is a nonprofit educational 24 foundation incorporated in 1974 under the laws of Washington with its principal place of business
25 in Bellevue, Washington. SAF is a 501(c)(3) organization under Title 26 of the United States Code.
26 SAF’s mission is to preserve the individual constitutional right to keep and bear arms through 27

1 public education, judicial, historical, and economic research, publishing, and legal-action programs
2 focused on the civil right guaranteed by the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution.
3 SAF has members nationwide, including in the State of Washington. SAF brings this action on 4 behalf of its members, including the individual Plaintiffs, who are adversely and directly harmed
5 by Defendants' enforcement of the laws, regulations, policies, practices, and customs challenged
6 herein.

7 15. Plaintiff Firearms Policy Coalition, Inc. ("FPC") is a 501(c)(4) non-profit
8 organization incorporated under the laws of Delaware with its principal place of business in 9 Sacramento, California. The purposes of FPC include defending and promoting the People's 10 rights—especially the fundamental, individual Second Amendment right to keep and bear arms—
11 advancing individual liberty, and restoring freedom. FPC serves its members and the public
12 through legislative advocacy, grassroots advocacy, litigation and legal efforts, research, education, 13 outreach, and other programs. FPC's members reside both within and outside Washington brings 14 this action on behalf of its members, including the individual Plaintiffs, who are adversely and 15 directly harmed by Defendants' enforcement of the laws, regulations, policies, practices, and 16 customs challenged herein.

17 16. Defendant Bob Ferguson is sued in his official capacity as Washington State 18 Attorney General. As Attorney General, Ferguson has the authority to assist in the prosecution of 19 crimes, including violations of the Washington Ban, and to institute and prosecute actions on 20 behalf of the state that are "necessary in the execution of the duties of any state officer." RCW § 21 43.10.030.

22 17. Defendant John R. Batiste is sued in his official capacity as the Chief of the 23 Washington State Patrol. As Chief of the State Patrol, Batiste has the power and duty to enforce 24 the law, including the Washington Ban, throughout the state. RCW § 43.43.030.

25 18. Defendant Clayton Myers is sued in his official capacity as Sheriff for Kittitas
26 County, Washington. As Sheriff, Myers is responsible for arresting and imprisoning "all persons 27

1 guilty of public offenses” in Kittitas County, including individuals who violate the Washington
2 Ban. RCW § 36.28.010.

3 19. Defendant John Horch is sued in his official capacity as Sheriff for Clark County, 4 Washington. As Sheriff, Horch is responsible for arresting and imprisoning “all persons guilty of 5 public offenses” in Clark County, including individuals who violate the challenged ban. Id.

6 20. Defendant John Gese is sued in his official capacity as Sheriff for Kitsap County, 7 Washington. As Sheriff, Gese is responsible for arresting and imprisoning “all persons guilty of 8 public offenses” in Kitsap County, including individuals who violate the challenged ban. Id.

9 21. Defendant Adam Fortney is sued in his official capacity as Sheriff for Snohomish
10 County, Washington. As Sheriff, Fortney is responsible for arresting and imprisoning “all persons
11 guilty of public offenses” in Snohomish County, including individuals who violate the challenged 12 ban. Id.

13 22. Defendant Greg Zempel is sued in his official capacity as County Prosecutor for 14 Kittitas County. As County Prosecutor, Zempel is responsible for “prosecut[ing] all criminal and 15 civil actions” including for violations of the challenged ban, “in which the state or the county may 16 be a party.” RCW § 36.27.020.

17 23. Defendant Tony Golik is sued in his official capacity as County Prosecutor for Clark 18 County. As County Prosecutor, Golik is responsible for “prosecut[ing] all criminal and civil 19 actions” including for violations of the challenged ban, “in which the state or the county may be a 20 party.” Id.

21 24. Defendant Dan Chad M. Enright is sued in his official capacity as County
22 Prosecutor for Kitsap County. As County Prosecutor, Enright is responsible for “prosecut[ing] all 23 criminal and civil actions” including for violations of the challenged ban, “ in which the state or 24 the county may be a party.” Id.

25 25. Defendant Jason Cummings is sued in his official capacity as County Prosecutor for 26 Snohomish County. As County Prosecutor, Cummings is responsible for “prosecut[ing] all 27

1 criminal and civil actions” including for violations of the challenged ban, “in which the state or the
2 county may be a party.” Id.

3 IV. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS.

4 A. Washington’s Ban on Common Semiautomatic Rifles.

5 26. On April 25, 2023 Governor Jay Inslee signed Substitute House Bill 1240
6 (hereinafter cited as “Act”), which made it illegal for any person in Washington to, with a handful
7 of exceptions, “manufacture, import, distribute, sell, or offer for sale any assault weapon,” Act §
8 3(1). The State identifies a firearm as an “assault weapon” based on the presence of certain 9 characteristics. RCW § 9.41.010(2) It also lists by name several models of banned “assault rifles”.
10 Id.

11 27. By the terms of its own title, this criminal prohibition provides only “limited 12 exemptions applicable to licensed firearm manufacturers and dealers for purposes of sale to armed 13 forces branches and law enforcement agencies and for purposes of sale or transfer outside the state, 14 and to inheritors.” Act at Preamble.

15 28. The Act exempts from its tendentious label of “assault weapons” only “antique 16 firearms, any firearm that has been made permanently inoperable, [and] any firearm that is 17 manually operated by bolt, pump, lever, or slide action,” but it makes commerce in many of the 18 most common firearms in Washington—and indeed the country—illegal. RCW § 9.41.010(2)(c).

19 29. As a result, the Act makes it impossible for a law-abiding resident of Washington to 20 lawfully acquire those rifles by making it illegal to either sell them in-state or bring them in from 21 another state.

22 30. Violating the “assault weapons” ban is a gross misdemeanor, punishable by up to 23 364 days imprisonment and a fine of up to $5,000. Act § 3(4); RCW § 9A.20.021(2).

24 31. The Act takes effect immediately upon enactment. Act § 6.
25
26
27

1 B. Washington Has Criminalized A Common And Important Means Of Self-Defense.

2 32. Among other things, the Ban defines as an “assault weapon” and bans any 3 semiautomatic center fire rifle with the capacity to accept a detachable magazine, if it has any one 4 of the following features:

- 5 (A) A grip that is independent or detached from the stock that protrudes conspicuously
6 beneath the action of the weapon. The addition of a fin attaching the grip to the stock 7 does not exempt the grip if it otherwise resembles the grip found on a pistol;
- 8 (B) Thumbhole stock;
- 9 (C) Folding or telescoping stock;
- 10 (D) Forward pistol, vertical, angled, or other grip designed for use by the nonfiring hand 11 to improve control;
- 12 (E) Flash suppressor, flash guard, flash eliminator, flash hider, sound suppressor, 13 silencer, or any item designed to reduce the visual or audio signature of the firearm;
- 14 (F) Muzzle brake, recoil compensator, or any item designed to be affixed to the barrel to 15 reduce recoil or muzzle rise;
- 16 (G) Threaded barrel designed to attach a flash suppressor, sound suppressor, muzzle 17 break, or similar item;
- 18 (H) Grenade launcher or flare launcher; or
- 19 (I) A shroud that encircles either all or part of the barrel designed to shield the bearer's 20 hand from heat, except a solid forearm of a stock that covers only the bottom of the barrel.

21 RCW § 9.41.010(2)(a)(iv).

22 33. Further, the Statute bans any “conversion kit, part, or combination of parts, from 23 which an assault weapon can be assembled or from which a firearm can be converted into an assault
24 weapon if those parts are in the possession or under the control of the same person.” RCW § 25 9.41.010(2)(a)(iii).

8 RCW § 9.41.010(a)(ii).

9 35. The banned semiautomatic rifles “traditionally have been widely accepted as lawful
10 possessions,” see Staples v. United States, 511 U.S. 600, 612 (1994) (so categorizing an AR-15
11 semiautomatic rifle), and they are in common use, see Heller v. Dist. of Columbia, 670 F.3d 1244, 12 1261 (D.C. Cir. 2011) (“Heller II”) (“We think it clear enough in the record that semi-automatic 13 rifles . . . are indeed in ‘common use’ as the plaintiffs contend.”).

14 36. Rifles built on an “AR-style” platform are a paradigmatic example of the type of 15 arm Washington bans (“AR” is short for ArmaLite Rifle; ArmaLite originally designed the 16 platform).

17 37. AR-15 rifles are among the most popular firearms in the nation, and they are owned
18 by millions of Americans. A recent survey of gun owners indicates that about 24.6 million
19 Americans have owned AR-15 or similar modern semiautomatic rifles, with the “median owner”
20 identified as owning a single rifle. William English, 2021 National Firearms Survey: Updated
21 Analysis Including Types of Firearms Owned at 2, 33 (May 13, 2022), <https://bit.ly/3yPfoHw>. A 22 recent industry publication similarly estimated that over 24 million AR-15 or similar rifles have 23 been produced for the U.S. market. NAT’L SHOOTING SPORTS FOUND., Commonly Owned: NSSF
24 Announces Over 24 Million MSRs in Circulation, (July 20, 2022), <https://bit.ly/3QBxiyv>. And a
25 recent Washington Post-Ipsos poll reached similar results, finding that 20% of gun owners owned 26 an AR-15 or similar type of rifle. WASHINGTON POST-IPSOS, Most AR-15 gun owners own AR-15s to 27 protect their self, family, and property (March 27, 2023), available at <https://bit.ly/40RtIKz>.

1 38. Approximately 20% of all firearms sold in recent years were rifles of the type banned
2 by Washington. NAT'L SHOOTING SPORTS FOUND., INC., Firearms Retailer Survey Report, 2021 at 3 9, available at <https://bit.ly/3gWhI8E>. And in 2020, more than 20 million adults participated in 4 target or sport shooting with semiautomatic rifles like those banned by Washington. NAT'L
5 SHOOTING SPORTS FOUND., INC., Sport Shooting Participation in the U.S. in 2020 at iii, available at 6 <https://bit.ly/3sPuEQI> (last accessed Mar. 23, 2023).

7 39. The banned semiautomatic firearms, like all other semiautomatic firearms, fire only 8 one round for each pull of the trigger. They are not machine guns. Staples, 511 U.S. at 620 n.1.
9 What is more, the designation “assault weapons” is a misnomer, “developed by anti-gun
10 publicists” in their crusade against lawful firearm ownership. Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914, 11 1001 n.16 (2000) (Thomas, J., dissenting).

12 40. A comparison to firearms used by the military demonstrates just how disingenuous
13 the “assault weapon” moniker is. According to the United States Army, for example, the 14 maximum effective rate of fire for various M4- and M16-series firearms is between forty-five and 15 sixty-five rounds per minute in semiautomatic mode—the only mode available to an AR-15 user.
16 Rifle Marksmanship: M16-/M4-Series Weapons, Dep't of the Army 2-1 tbl. 2-1 (2008),
17 <https://bit.ly/3pvS3SW>. In contrast, an M16 can fire 150-200 rounds per minute in automatic 18 mode. Id.

19 41. Central among the common uses of semiautomatic firearms banned in Washington
20 is self-defense. A majority of owners of AR-style rifles said that they owned their firearms for self-
21 defense. English, 2021 National Firearms Survey, supra, at 34 (61.9% owned for home defense;
22 34.6% owned for defense outside the home); Washington Post-Ipsos Poll, supra at 1 (65% of owners
23 said protection of self, family, and property was a “major reason” for owning an AR-15 style rifle,
24 and another 26% said it was a “minor reason”). Owners of AR-15s and other similar rifles rated
25 “Home/self-defense” as over 8 out of 10 in importance for owning them, the second-highest rating
26

1 after recreational target shooting. NAT'L SHOOTING SPORTS FOUND., INC., Modern Sporting Rifle:
2 Comprehensive Consumer Report 18 (July 14, 2022), available at <https://bit.ly/3SSrVjM>.

3 42. An AR-15 rifle is an optimal firearm to rely on in a self-defense encounter. Most 4 AR-style firearms are chambered for 5.56x45mm NATO, which is similar to .223 Remington
5 ammunition. This is a relatively inexpensive and common cartridge that is particularly well suited
6 for home-defense purposes because it has sufficient stopping power in the event of a home
7 intrusion, but quickly loses velocity after passing through a target and other objects, thus 8 decreasing the chance that an errant shot will strike an unintended target. Although most pistol
9 rounds have less muzzle velocity than a 5.56x45mm NATO round, they have greater mass,
10 maintain velocity after passing through walls and other objects, and pose substantially greater risks
11 to unintended targets in, or even outside, the home. See David B. Kopel, How powerful are AR
12 rifles?, THE VOLOKH CONSPIRACY (Feb. 27, 2023) <https://bit.ly/3nE0dgG>. And bullets fired in 13 larger hunting rifle calibers, like .30-06, are much more powerful still. See NAT'L SHOOTING
14 SPORTS FOUND., INC., Modern Sporting Rifle: The Facts, available at <https://bit.ly/42VayVO>.

15 43. It has been argued that the .223 Remington/5.56x45mm NATO rounds are 16 incredibly destructive, and that bans like Washington's are necessary for that reason. See Delaware
17 State Sportsmen's Assoc., Inc. v. Delaware Dep't of Safety & Homeland Sec'y, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2023
18 WL 2655150, at *10 (D. Del. Mar. 27, 2023). But there are two major flaws with this claim. The 19 first, and most basic, is that the Washington Ban, like the other laws it mimics, does not say 20 anything about what ammunition may or may not be used. Firearms that use the .223 round but 21 lack the banned features may still be bought in Washington, and firearms that have the banned
22 features but shoot even much smaller ammunition are still banned. If the concern is the 23 ammunition, the Washington Ban does not address it.

24 44. Second, the destructive power of these rounds is greatly overstated. Claims that 25 these cartridges "can decapitate or dismember . . ." can be traced to a U.S. military report from 26 Vietnam in 1962" which described "theatrically grotesque wounds" which the Army's Wound
27

1 Ballistic Laboratory tried but could not ever replicate “no matter what they did.” Kopel, How
2 powerful are AR rifles, supra. Combat veterans with significant experience with the ammunition in 3 question have derided the claims that these are “powerful” rounds, noting instead that the rounds
4 are often considered by soldiers to be too small to be adequate for use in war. See, Maj. Anthony F.
5 Milavic (U.S.M.C. Ret.), It’s the Cartridge, Stupid—Not the Rifle, PROCEEDINGS, U.S. NAVAL 6 INSTITUTE (Aug. 2002), available at <https://bit.ly/3nAaPNJ>.

7 45. Like the AR-15 generally, many of the specific features banned by Washington aid
8 home defense. A flash suppressor, for example, not only reduces the chances that a home-invader
9 will identify his victim’s position but also protects a homeowner against momentary blindness
10 when firing in self-defense. David B. Kopel, Rational Basis Analysis of “Assault Weapon”
11 Prohibition, 20 J. CONTEMP. L. 381, 397 (1994).

12 46. Folding and telescoping stocks increase the likelihood of successful home defense
13 by permitting safe storage of defense instruments in accessible spaces and making the rifle
14 maneuverable in confined spaces. Id. at 398–99. A telescoping stock also allows a firearm to be 15 better fitted to an individual shooter, thereby enhancing the ability of an individual to use the 16 firearm safely and effectively.

17 47. Pistol grips and improve accuracy and reduce the risk of stray shots by stabilizing
18 the firearm while firing from the shoulder. Id. at 396.

19 48. Thumbhole stocks serve precisely the same function. James B. Jacobs, Why Ban
20 “Assault Weapons”?, 37 CARDOZO L. REV. 681, 690 (2015).

21 49. Most common semiautomatic rifles, including those banned under Washington’s
22 law, can accept a detachable magazine. Detachable magazines not only assist law-abiding shooters
23 in reloading their firearm in stressful defense circumstances, but in the case of some platforms,
24 including the common AR-15, they are required to safely and quickly remedy malfunctions.

25 50. Encounters with criminal intruders in the home, where the AR-style rifle may be 26 most useful, are not uncommon. For instance, according to a report by the U.S. Department of 27

1 Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, household members are present for almost a third of all
2 burglaries and become victims of violent crimes in more than a quarter of those cases. Studies on 3 the frequency of defensive gun uses in the United States have determined that there are up to 2.5
4 million instances each year in which civilians use firearms to defend themselves or their property.
5 Gary Kleck, Marc Gertz, Armed Resistance to Crime: The Prevalence and Nature of Self-Defense with 6 a Gun, 86 J. OF CRIM. L. & CRIMINOLOGY 150, 164 (1995); see also English, National Firearms
7 Survey, supra at 9 (finding 31.1% of firearms owners, or approximately 25.3 million adult Americans,
8 have used a firearm in self-defense and there are 1.67 million defensive firearm uses a year). Both 9 Kleck and English found that over 100,000 of these annual defensive gun uses were with rifles. See 10 Kleck, Armed Resistance to Crime, supra, at 185, English, 2021 National Firearms Survey, supra, at 11 11.

12 51. Other common, lawful uses of the banned firearms are hunting and sport. At least 13 a third of all gun-owners use a firearm for hunting or sport shooting, and recreational target
14 shooting is a top reason for owning semiautomatic rifles like those banned by Washington.

15 52. Here, again, the banned features of semiautomatic firearms—mischaracterized as 16 assault weapons—serve lawful purposes. Folding and telescoping stocks, for example, allow for 17 safe transportation, including in a hiking pack, an ATV, or a boat. These stocks also ease carriage 18 over long distances while hunting.

19 53. Both telescoping stocks and protruding grips open hunting and sport-shooting to 20 those for whom recoil poses a challenge. Detachable magazines have the same benefits in hunting 21 and sport-shooting as they do in home defense—improved reloading and remedying of 22 malfunctions. And flash suppressors promote accuracy in target-shooting and hunting (especially 23 at dawn).

24 54. By contrast, one use that is not common for so-called assault weapons is crime.
25 According to a widely cited 2004 study, these arms “are used in a small fraction of gun crimes.”

3 THEIR CONTROL 112 (1997) (evidence indicates that “well under 1% [of crime guns] are ‘assault

4 rifles.’”). Indeed, according to FBI statistics in 2021 there were only 510 homicides known to be
5 committed with rifles of any type, compared to 5,363 with handguns, 1,018 with knives or other 6 cutting instruments, 510 with personal weapons (hands, feet, etc.) and 267 with blunt objects. U.S.

9 55. The rifles that Washington bans as “assault weapons” are, in all respects, ordinary 10 semiautomatic rifles. To the extent they are different from other semiautomatic rifles, their 11 distinguishing features make them safer and easier to use. But even if they are considered as a 12 separate group of “assault weapons,” they cannot be banned because they are not dangerous and 13 unusual.

14 56. The arms banned as “assault weapons” by Washington are common by all counts:
15 (1) They are common categorically, as they are all semiautomatic in their function and operation;
16 (2) they are common characteristically, as they are all popular configurations of arms (e.g., rifles)
17 with varying barrel lengths and common characteristics like pistol grips; and (3) they are common
18 jurisdictionally, lawful to possess and use in the vast majority of states now and throughout relevant
19 history, for a wide variety of lawful purposes that include self-defense, proficiency training, 20 competition, recreation, hunting, and collecting.

21 57. The Statute’s ban on manufacturing, importing, distributing, selling, or offering for 22 sale an “assault weapon” is, therefore, a ban on keeping and bearing semiautomatic firearms that 23 are commonly possessed and used for lawful purposes, including self-defense in the home.

25 C. Statement Of Facts Relating To Lawrence Hartford.

26 58. The foregoing paragraphs are hereby incorporated herein as if set forth in full.

27 59. Plaintiff Lawrence Hartford is an adult resident of Kitsap County, Washington.

1 60. Mr. Hartford is a peaceable, law-abiding, responsible citizen.

2 61. Mr. Hartford is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

3 62. Mr. Hartford would buy a BCM M4 Mod 2, an AR-type firearm, but he cannot do
4 so because the enactment of the Ban has destroyed the legal market for that firearm.

5 63. Additionally, Mr. Hartford enjoys target shooting on his property, and in an effort
6 to minimize noise he prefers to use firearms that can be fitted with suppressors. When he purchases
7 firearms, he prefers to buy firearms with threaded barrels designed to accept a suppressor, but 8 because of the law challenged here, he will not be able to do so.

9 64. It is Mr. Hartford's present intention and desire to purchase additional 10 semiautomatic rifles of the kind that are banned by Washington, were it lawful to do so. Because of 11 Washington's Ban, he cannot lawfully purchase additional semiautomatic rifles, because the 12 existence of the Ban, and Defendants' enforcement of it, has extinguished the legal market for 13 those items in Washington, and made it unlawful for Mr. Mitchell to import them himself.

14 D. Statement Of Facts Relating To Doug Mitchell.

15 65. The foregoing paragraphs are hereby incorporated herein as if set forth in full.

16 66. Plaintiff Doug Mitchell is an adult resident of Kittitas County, Washington.

17 67. Mr. Mitchell is a peaceable, law-abiding, responsible citizen.

18 68. Mr. Mitchell is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

19 69. Mr. Mitchell would purchase a Sig Sauer MCX Spear LT, an AR-type firearm, but 20 he cannot do so because the enactment of the Ban has destroyed the legal market for that firearm.

21 70. It is Mr. Mitchell's present intention and desire to purchase additional 22 semiautomatic rifles of the kind that are banned by Washington, were it lawful to do so. Because of 23 Washington's Ban, he cannot lawfully purchase additional semiautomatic rifles, because the 24 existence of the Ban, and Defendants' enforcement of it, has extinguished the legal market for 25 those items in Washington, and made it unlawful for Mr. Mitchell to import them himself.
26

1 E. Statement Of Facts Relating To Brett Bass.

2 71. The foregoing paragraphs are hereby incorporated herein as if set forth in full.

3 72. Plaintiff Brett Bass is an adult resident of Snohomish County, Washington.

4 73. Mr. Bass is a peaceable, law-abiding, responsible citizen.

5 74. Mr. Bass is a member of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

6 75. Mr. Bass owns a semiautomatic pistol which he would equip with a threaded barrel,
7 but because the law challenged herein makes manufacturing a so-called “assault weapon”
8 unlawful, he will be unable to do so.

9 76. Additionally, Mr. Bass would buy a Palmetto State Armory AK-103, but he cannot 10 do so because the enactment of the Ban has destroyed the legal market for that firearm.

11 77. It is Mr. Bass’s present intention and desire to purchase additional semiautomatic
12 rifles of the kind that are banned by Washington, were it lawful to do so. Because of Washington’s
13 Ban, he cannot lawfully purchase additional semiautomatic rifles, because the existence of the Ban, 14 and Defendants’ enforcement of it, has extinguished the legal market for those items in 15 Washington, and made it unlawful for Mr. Mitchell to import them himself.

16 F. Statement Of Facts Relating To Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc.

17 78. The foregoing paragraphs are hereby incorporated herein as if set forth in full.

18 79. Plaintiff Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. is a corporation located in Clark County,
19 Washington. Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. is owned and operated by Dan Mitchell, a member 20 of Plaintiffs SAF and FPC.

21 80. Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. is a federally licensed firearm dealer. Before the 22 Washington Ban, every month it sold hundreds of rifles and lower receivers that have been 23 erroneously labeled “assault weapons” by Washington to law-abiding citizens in the State.

24 81. It is Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc.’s present intention and desire to continue 25 to sell banned semiautomatic rifles. Because of Washington’s Ban, however, it has been forced to 26 stop selling many common semiautomatic rifles to members of the general public. As a result,
27

1 Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. is losing and will lose profits from sales of common
2 semiautomatic rifles as a direct result of Washington's Ban.

3 82. In addition to risking prosecution, Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. could also 4 jeopardize its federal firearms license if it were to violate the Ban. As a vendor who is harmed by 5 the "assault weapons" ban, Sporting Systems Vancouver, Inc. challenges the ban to vindicate the 6 Second Amendment protected rights of its itself and customers. See Teixeira v. County of Alameda,
7 873 F.3d 670, 678 (9th Cir. 2017); Ezell v. City of Chicago, 651 F.3d 684 (7th Cir. 2011).

8 V. CAUSE OF ACTION.

9 A. Count One: 42 U.S.C. § 1983 & Ex parte Young, 209 U.S. 123 (1908)- Deprivation of 10 Plaintiffs' Rights under the Second and Fourteenth Amendments of the United 11 States Constitution.

12 83. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth
13 herein.

14 84. The Second Amendment to the United States Constitution provides: "A well-
15 regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and 16 bear Arms shall not be infringed."

17 85. The Second Amendment is fully applicable to the States through the Fourteenth 18 Amendment. McDonald v. City of Chicago, 561 U.S. 742, 750 (2010); id. at 805 (Thomas, J., 19 concurring).

20 86. "Just as the First Amendment protects modern forms of communications, and the 21 Fourth Amendment applies to modern forms of search, the Second Amendment extends, prima
22 facie, to all instruments that constitute bearable arms, even those that were not in existence at the 23 time of the founding." Heller, 554 U.S. at 582 (citations omitted).

24 87. The firearms at issue in this case are the sorts of bearable arms in common use for 25 lawful purposes that law-abiding people possess at home by the millions. They are, therefore,
26 neither dangerous nor unusual and they cannot be banned.
27

1 88. 42 U.S.C. § 1983 creates a cause of action against state actors who deprive
2 individuals of federal constitutional rights under color of state law.

3 89. Ex parte Young, 209 U.S. 123 (1908) provides an exception to state sovereign
4 immunity by permitting parties to sue state officials in their official capacity for prospective
5 injunctive and declaratory relief from unconstitutional state laws.

6 90. Plaintiffs are peaceable citizens of Washington and the United States who wish to 7 purchase and possess firearms that have been banned as “assault weapons” by Washington.

8 91. Outright bans on manufacturing, distributing, importing, selling, or offering for sale
9 common semiautomatic rifles violate the Second Amendment by prohibiting all Washington
10 residents from acquiring those firearms and denying them the fundamental right to keep and bear 11 arms.

12 92. An outright ban on manufacturing, importing, selling, or offering for sale
13 constitutionally protected magazines violates the Second Amendment by prohibiting retailers from 14 engaging in commerce necessary for individuals to exercise their fundamental right to keep and 15 bear arms. Cf. Planned Parenthood of Central Missouri v. Danforth, 428 U.S. 52, 62 (1976)

16 VI. PRAYER FOR RELIEF.

17 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray for the following relief:

- 18
- 19 1. Declare that Washington’s ban on commonly possessed semiautomatic firearms violates 20 the right to keep and bear arms, as guaranteed under the Second and Fourteenth 21 Amendments to the United States Constitution;
 - 22 2. Preliminarily and permanently enjoin each Defendant, each Defendant’s respective 23 employees, officers, agents, and representatives, and all those acting in concert or 24 participation with him or her, from enforcing Washington’s ban on commonly possessed 25 semiautomatic firearms;
 - 26 3. Award Plaintiffs attorneys’ fees and costs pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1988, and any other 27 applicable law; and,
